

HAWAI'I ISLAND MARKET UPDATE

AUGUST 2023

Recent market conditions prevailed in August, with key indicators remaining relatively unchanged throughout the summer. As mortgage interest rates continue to rise above 7%, softer demand may be on the horizon. However, properties priced at or below the median sales prices for condos and single-family homes still sell quickly and often above the asking price. In today's market, working with a seasoned real estate agent who can help you navigate the nuances of a community or condo building is a considerable advantage.
